

Dangerous Prayers for Blessing and Favour

Generally, favour means goodwill, acceptance and the benefits flowing from these.

It is also used interchangeably with mercy, grace and kindness.

Favour is that which helps man to achieve divine destiny or expectation with minimum effort.

Favour adds flavor to our lives and mobilizes others to help us in accomplishing our destiny plans and dreams.

When the spirit of favour is upon our lives, it compels men and spirits to assist us in our destiny pursuits.

Favour spares us the ordeals of unnecessary or needless labour and toiling.

Favour makes our countenance or presence appealing and endearing to prospective helpers.

The spirit of disfavor, on the other hand, makes our presence repulsive to those who ought to help us.

Favour is that which moves others to help and encourage you.

Without favour, destiny fulfillment will suffer needless delay or abortion.

Every successful bible character has been favoured in one way or the other. Samuel and Jesus were not only favoured; they also grew in favour as they advanced from one stage of destiny fulfillment to the other (Sam 2:26, Luke 2:52).

We should both desire to receive the spirit of favour and to grow in it. We should pray to enjoy favour from both God and man.

Scriptures: Ps. 103:1-3; 2 Sam. 5:11-12; I Kgs. 5; Esth. 2:15-17; Dan. 6:1-4.
