

What Happens When Couples Are Resolute.

I have discovered that times when I make up my mind that something must be done; somehow, I find a way to get it done no matter how difficult or impossible it appeared. It does seem to me that whenever I tell myself that I do not have any other choice...

